46. On March 19, 2021, a corrected filing of Second Amended Stipulation and Order to Extend Discovery (Third Request) was filed. (ECF No. 122).
47. on March 19, 2021, an Order Granting Second Amended Stipulation and Order to Extend Discovery (Third Request) was filed. (ECF No. 123).

In January 2021, counsel for Plaintiffs Samantha A. Martin, Esq. found out that she was pregnant with a due date in August 2021. It is Ms. Martin's intention to take maternity leave from August 2021 until the end of October/beginning of November 2021 depending on her health and the health of the child. Ms. Martin will not be available for any depositions and will have limited availability to review the necessary expert disclosures. Furthermore, the parties anticipate that there will be numerous depositions that need to be taken to fully litigate all of the claims and defenses in this matter. The ninety-day (90) day extension of time will ensure that the parties have ample time to conduct any and all discovery necessary for this matter. The parties recognize that this is a lengthy discovery period but given Ms. Martin's pregnancy as well as all of the claims, leave as well as all of the claims, defenses and parties at issue here, they believe that the ninety (90) day extension is necessary. As such, the parties agree that an additional Ninety (90) days are needed to disclose experts, complete party and witness depositions and complete discovery.

33. Plaintiffs served their Fourth supplemental FRCP26 disclosures and exhibits on August 4, 2021.

II. Description of Additional Proposed Discovery

The parties discussed what additional discovery needs to be completed in this matter. It was determined that, in order to fully litigate and investigate all alleged claims and defenses, the parties need to engage in the following:

1. Depositions of parties and witnesses.
2. Additional disclosure of documents and written discovery.
3. Retention of experts.
4. Disclosure of all experts and their reports as well as depositions of the same.

Proposed Schedule for Completing All Remaining Discovery

The parties wish to extend the dates for discovery as follows:

	Current Dates	Proposed Dates
Last day to amend pleadings or add parties	CLOSED	CLOSED
Last day to serve Plaintiff's Initial Expert Disclosures	September 10, 2021	December 9, 2021
Last day to serve Defendant's Initial Expert Disclosures	October 8, 2021	January 6, 2022
Last day to serve Plaintiff's and Defendant's Rebuttal Expert Disclosures	November 8, 2021	February 7, 2022
Last day to complete discovery	December 10, 2021	March 10, 2022
Last day to file dispositive motions	January 7, 2022	April 7, 2022

Joint Pretrial Order May 9, 2022

III. Reasons Why Good Cause Exists to Extend Expert Discovery Deadlines

FRCP 16(b)(5) provides that the scheduling order "shall not be modified" except upon a showing of good cause. The purpose of this rule is "to offer a measure of certainty in pretrial proceedings, ensuring that at some point both the parties and pleadings will be fixed." Nutton v. Sunset Station, Inc., Nev. Adv. Rep. 34, 357 P.3d 966, 971 (Nev. App. 2015). Good cause is established by showing that the current deadline cannot be met despite the requesting party's diligence in attempting to meet said deadline. Diligence in attempting to meet a deadline may be determined by considering If dispositive motions are filed, the deadline for filing the joint pretrial order will be suspended until 30 days after decision on the dispositive motions or further court order.

1 the explanation for the untimely conduct; the importance of the requested untimely action; the
 2 potential prejudice in allowing the untimely conduct; and the availability of a continuance to cure
 3 such prejudice. Id. at 971-72.

4 As outlined above, the parties have been engaged in extensive motion work relating to
 5 Plaintiffs various claims and the defenses to the same and, until recently, the parties were without an
 6 operative complaint fully outlining the parties involved in the litigation and the claims against them.
 7 Parties were therefore unable to take depositions of any percipient witnesses, retain experts or send
 8 out written discovery narrowly tailored to the claims at issue. With the parties finally having an
 9 operative complaint from which to work, discovery can truly begin in this matter. Additionally, now
 10 that Ms. Martin is pregnant with a due date in August 2021, the parties are requesting additional time
 11 to allow for Ms. Martin's post-partum recovery.

12 The parties recognize that this is the fourth discovery extension requested. However, given
 13 the nature of this case and the extensive motion work up to this point, the parties agree that additional 14 time is needed to complete discovery and to fully litigate this matter. This request is not being made
 15 in an attempt to delay the litigation of this matter but instead is being requested as a result of the issues
 16 outlined above as well as the party's inability to fully litigate the claim up to this point.

The requested extension of time for completion of discovery will allow the parties and their counsel to fully litigate this matter.

Good Afternoon:

I am just following up on the email that I sent this morning asking if I can affix your signature on the Amended SAO. We had mistakenly changed the date for Amending pleadings, and that date had expired some time ago. As such, we are correcting that.
